ODD ERROR—The "S. M." which appeared in several places in the advertisement of the John E. Barker Produce Company in Sunday's Republican, did not refer to the quantity for sale of the various articles, but was simply a part of the instructions to the printers regarding the composition of the advertisement. Usually such errors are detected by the proof-readers, but in the extra rush of Saturday night's work this particular advertisement was "railroaded." If the abbreviation had suggested outsiders, rather than have the inference would have been more nearly correct in view of the very large and varied stock of Thanksgiving specialties the Barker firm is offering.

EXHIBITS REMOVED, FAIR GROUNDS ARE DESERTED

If the Sunday that ushered in the Eleventh Annual Arizona Fair was rightly called "preparation day," yesterday could just as well and aptly be called packing day, for what of packing remained, after the close of the great fair on Saturday evening, was done yesterday and this morning the fair grounds presents a scene such as if a cyclone had passed through. Here and there are irregular piles of trash representing the site of some concession or other, or else where a carnival attraction has been packing for the long journey to El Paso for winter. Yonder are the fence posts and the rails that were taken down to give greater safety to the drivers in the motorcycle and automobile races, then there is dust on the sidewalks in the buildings—plenty of work for the ground force for a month—in getting rid of the marks of the most successful fair that has ever been held on the old grounds on the Glendale pike.

Over in the pig sty, sheep pen, and cattle stalls, nothing remains but the evidences of recent occupation. Everything has been gotten away in record time. Yesterday the last out of town entry for the fair was sent on his or her way rejoicing, a feat that has not heretofore been accomplished in the history of the fair. The office organization this year has been such that nearly every one was paid off and ready to start by midnight Saturday night, and by yesterday evening only those who could not get away sooner remained.

Yes there were plenty of tired officials and employees yesterday. The weeks of preparation followed by the one week of incessant sleepless toil to make the fair a success were followed by at least one day of relaxation. Yet there is still plenty to do, and this work will be taken up down town today and fought continuously until it is finished. The whole office force and equipment was moved down town yesterday, and today will see another week of hard work entered upon before the work of the fair can be called closed.

Satisfaction is the key note of all however for the fair has been a success. In every department it was larger, both in point of the exhibits and the activities displayed. It must be remembered that this year the county exhibit alone in the agricultural department occupied fifty per cent more space than at any previous year. Every department was enlarged to accommodate an increasing demand for space and then it was discovered that still more space could have been used to advantage. The agricultural building was crowded this year in spite of added space, and the demand for a building to hold these exhibits alone is becoming more insistent. It is not unlikely also that before another year rolls around there will be a Maricopa county building at the fair ground, for the exhibit from this county is growing bigger all the time.

The innovations did well. The Cafeteria was so well patronized that many were performed turned away; the food product and the automobile shows were well patronized. The dairy building was ever the most popular on the grounds, while the cattle stalls proved inadequate to accommodate the stock that was on display. Altogether the fair was a success, especially when it was considered the outlook three months ago; and what opposition there was encountered at that time. However it has now all passed. Arizona has once more vindicated herself; the counties have proven that they realize their allegiance to the state, and all responded nobly to the call for an exhibition of that which they could in the fullness of their experience best show to the world as worthy products of their respective sections. The satisfaction in the achievement of the past must now give way to the hope and determination that in the coming year a still greater fair will be prepared for and carried to the same successful completion that has characterized this one of the good year 1915.

CAMPBELL TO WINTER HERE

United Shows to Be Housed at Fair Grounds, According to Plans of Carnival Chief; Season Closes with Tonight's Acts

W. H. Campbell, owner of the carnival company, which exhibited fair week, likes Phoenix so well he intends to make it winter headquarters for shows under his direction. An agreement was signed with the state fair commission whereby the Campbell company is to have the use of the state fair grounds for winter headquarters and training camp.

This will mean the population of the city is to be increased by something like 300 people during the coming winter. The equipment of the company consists of twenty-two cars of property and this will be unloaded here and completely overhauled for the season of 1916, and about $25,000 will be spent by Mr. Campbell for new acts, animals and paraphernalia.

The carnival is to close tonight, following which members of the organization will take a vacation of two weeks. At the expiration of this time they will re-assemble in this city, and the equipment will be transferred to the new quarters at the fair ground. Their work during the winter will consist in breaking in new acts for next season and making a general preparation for the grand opening early in 1916.

Mr. Campbell will remain in this city during the winter and personally direct the work. He plans for the big feature of the next season's show a big mixed animal act.

Residents of the city who have a craving for things novel and unique, will have an opportunity this evening of witnessing two of the strangest wedding ceremonies ever recorded. At nine o'clock this evening Jolly Velez, an atom of humanity weighing only 62 pounds, is to enter into the marriage contract for life with Arthur Woollett, a ticket seller with the Campbell Carnival company. At the same hour, Henry Sherman, a harker with one of the shows of the carnival company, and who, by the way, is five feet, eleven inches in height, is to become the husband of Princess Stella, the famous midjet lady, who is just thirty-two inches tall, and who is also a member of the company.

The wedding will be staged on the top of the diving tower and the affair will be public. W. H. Campbell, manager of the carnival stated yesterday that on Saturday night the actual paid admission to the grounds was in excess of 6,000, the largest paid attendance ever recorded at a carnival here.

FUNERAL BY MOOSE—The funeral services for the late Fred Ernstadt, a member of Toledo, O. lodge No. 113, who died here several days ago, will be conducted from the Merryman undertaking parlors at 6 o'clock this afternoon, under the auspices of Phoenix lodge, No. 708, L. O. M. All members are requested to be present at that time.

CROWD ENJOYS FINE CONCERT YESTERDAY

The first concert of the season to be given by the Arizona School of Music was held yesterday afternoon at the auditorium of the school at three o'clock and proved to be one of the most enjoyable affairs of its kind ever held here. The first number of the program was a trio of violin selections by Miss Edith Leinenow, with the accompaniment of the orchestra, the numbers being "Amaranthus," by Gilder, "En-tracte" (Mignon) by Thomas and "Cavatina" by Raff. Following this number, the Symphony Militaire was rendered by the orchestra. After this came in order "Where'er You Walk" rendered by Mr. Wright and the orchestra. Director Frank Lloyd Stuebel gave an artistic rendition of "La Brunette" and presented a humorous by Dvorak.

Miss Anna Marie Lake, the soloist of the occasion, was in fine voice and responded to an ovation with Melod's "Absent." Following is the personnel of the full orchestra: Violin: Carl Lindstrom, H. Eizwiler, Regina Cadieux, C. H. Snyder, Edith Leinenow, Louis Diell, Leon Pomeros, Wilfred LeFevre, Trombone: Mrs. C. E. Hartman, Flauto: Daisy Scotley, Horn: Albert Coyle, Bass: A. Kyle, Viola: J. G. Lindsay, Cornet: Ray Smith and I. Eichenbrouer, Clarinet: D. Benenato and V. Benenato, Drums: H. De Wolf.

SMELTER MAN BUYS A WILLYS-KNIGHT AT FAIR

Among the sales of Overland and Willys-Knight cars made during the week of the state fair, was one to Tom Taylor of Jerome, one of the best known men in northern Arizona. Mr. Taylor is superintendent of the United Verde smelter and was in attendance at the fair with his family. While here he became interested in a car and wished to enjoy the pleasure of driving home overland, with his family on his return to their home. Saturday he purchased from the Huntman-Hotchkiss Overland company of Phoenix, one of the latest Willys-Knights, a beautiful car with its famous Knight engine, and early Sunday morning the family left for their home.

A. MANDL ADMITTED TO GENERAL PRACTICE

Before the supreme court of the state on Saturday, A. Mandl, for several years a successful land attorney, with offices in this city, was admitted to state bar and authorized to engage in general law practice. His admission followed the usual examination, in which he registered an unusually satisfactory rating.

Before engaging in land law practice, Attorney Mandl was attached to the local land office. While a member of the land office force, he so thoroughly familiarized himself with the details of the work and with the general land laws, that it was an easy step from his position into that of a successful land law practitioner. His record as a land attorney has been most enviable. He has won many contests and has secured several reversals of local rulings.

As a general practitioner he should succeed. He was admitted to the bar of New York several years ago and is a graduate of the New York University.
